Henry and William Huntbach owned Huntbach near Eccleshall c1335-1351. In 1362 Richard son of William Huntbach granted to Adam de Aston vicar of Eccleshale all his tenements there inherited from his grandfather Richard de Chebeseye and John son of his said grandfather. Later Thomas Huntbach of Sheriff Hales is said to have been a servant of James Lilleshall of Wolverhampton and to have prospered with his master. Wishing to establish his son Thomas in an adequate seat he arranged a lease of Seawalls from the Leveson family.
